The Plainfield Public Library has just published a new book of 61 historical photographs entitled Plainfield: Lost But Not Forgotten.

The book documents a library exhibit of the same name that was shown in the summer and fall of 2009. The online version of the exhibit may be viewed through the Plainfield Public Library's website: www.plainfieldlibrary.info

The book was developed at the behest of an enthusiastic public who saw the exhibit. Subjects include the Talmadge Mansion, the Netherwood Hotel, the Plainfield Public Library, Plainfield's theatres, railroad depots, Tier's Pond, Tepper's Department Store, the Clara Louise Tea Room, and the Babcock Building, Plainfield's most important commercial building at the start of the 20th century.

Copies are available at the Plainfield Public Library. The softcover edition costs $20; the hardcover edition is $30.
